

Last Tuesday, October 27, I moderated a panel for the Society of Composers and Lyricists 2009 Annual Membership Meeting. Laura Karpman, Lee Holdridge, Steve Bartek, and Jeff Beal spoke eloquently and energetically about what fuels their creativity and keeps them inspired and how they are able to be pro-active in life and career choices. It was a lively and poignant evening and the feedback we got from the members was fantastic. Look for links at www.the-scl.com soon.
